A DEPARTMENT OF Paris States that the OUR NASHVILLE LETTER. Archb shops of that city and of Lyons and Toulon have written to Pre i lent Grevy, asserting their devotion to the fatherland and condemning the isolated electoral misdeeds of a few pricets whom, they say, persist in harping upon the religious gravity of the present situation. The archbishops assure M. Grevy that the mor archical and republican forms of government are equally acceptable to the Roman Catholic Church, provided the affairs of the nation be wisely administered.

THE news from Europe is not of a very exciting nature. Bismarck continnes his brutal and brutalizing expulsion of the Poles, and in the debate in the German Parliament last Friday night made light of it. But all Europe is greatly stirred over it. Rusespecially feeling so bitter that it is equally determined to expel the Germans from its Polish provinces. "Blond is thicker than The merchants of Austrian and Russian Poland are making arrangements to boycott the German trade as a retaliation for the expulsion of the Poles by "the man of blood and iron."

THE Hon. David B. Atchison, who tieth Congress. The term of Mr. Polk as President and of 4th of March, 1849. That being Sun-the Democratic party and of will permit. So far as the gentlemen named who reside in this city are concerned, we are in a position to say that Mr. Turley will not be a candidate. He has, for reasons that are all-sufficient for himself, been compelled to withdraw from the field, and will, we understand, be glad to do what he can to makes Mr. Folkes's candidacy a success, Already the sentiment of the har city is beginning to crystallize around this gentleman, whose standing as a lawyer and c ti-sen is sufficient to justify therauguine of his friends. Attorney-General Lee's is s' a strong name, and we agree with correspondent that he will more than likely be one of the judges of the next Supreme Court.

WE don't quite agree with our Nashville correspondent as to the probably success ful candidate for Governor. Bob Taylor may be the man, but we think it possible for Memphis to persuade the party to take up the gonial "Bob" Loosey as the most avai able candidate and the best. But the discussion of this we will leave to another time. What we want to call especial attertion to to-day is the intelligent way in which our correspondent insists upon Mr. James Phelan as the most available candidate for Congress from this district. If what he says is true he certainly must be. But saids from any claims to personal strength in Fayette, Tipton and Hardeman, as well as Shelby county, it can be truthfully said of Mr. Phelan that he has everything else on his side. He is a scholar and a student, and yet a practical man who is used to looking the world in the face every day and using it, and counting himself for all He is worth. He is a Democrat by blood, training and conviction, and looks at questions from their real side. He rides no hobbies. He regards a public man as a public servant. A man to lead with firmness and obey honestly. The people's interests would be safe in such a man's hands. He would try to rise to an equality with their wishes, and above all things to be equal in every instance to his own standard of excellence, very much higher than the average. He is ambitious in a reasonably proud-spirited way. He desires to distinguish himself in public life, and to be as his father was, always too bonorable to do anything that would trench upon his own integrity. He is young and in full sympathy with the spirit of the age-is progressive, and believes in and loves the whole Union as the country above all others that makes the bappiness of mankind a possible real ration. Mr. Phelan has made for himself a most creditable place among his fellew-citizens and we feel sure that if nominated by the Democratic party and elected to Congress he will make a reputation in his first term that will sustain him in any spirations he may have be-yond that period. There is growth in him, and the foundations of his charhim, and the foundations of his char-acter are laid in truth and justice and love of liberty.

Candidates for the Supreme Court and the United States Senate and Hon e.

more certainty, the probable candidates, are more plainly to be seen, yet there is enough doubt and uncertainty beclouding the most popular of these mentioned to make snything like a review interesting. Beginning with the beginning, I have interviewed a number of leading men in all parts of the State as to the composition of the Suprems Court, and find, upon careful summary of my notes, that a majority of them are egreed water." The Slav will help the Slav. that there should be two conventions, and that none but the best men offering should be selected for seats in our highest court. Snodgrass is presented by East Tennessee, Turney and Cooper for Middle Tennessee, and Folkes and Lee for West Tennessee, and Judge Freeman has many friends died at St. Joseph, Mo., Wednesday in all parts of the State. Turney is lest, was United States Sena or from the most popular of these gentlemen, Missouri from 1843 to 1855, and twice and is sure of his nomination and rechosen President pro tempore of the election if he lives, and just now he Senate. He also claimed the singular is in very good health. Folkes of distinction of having been President your city is better known to the lawof the United Status for one day. He yers than the people, but backed by was President pro tempore of the the bar of Memphis he has nothing Senate at the close of the Thir- to fear before the convention. Lee is the present Attorney-General, and is a man of mark and cha atter. His Mr. Dallas Vice-President, of the ambition has always been confined United States expired at noon on the to the limits of his profession, Ath of March, 1849. That being Sunday Gen. Taylor did not take the oath of effice until the Monday following. During the interval the effice was in abeyance. Mr. Atchison was a warm personal friend and admirer of Mr. Jefferson Davis.

The letter from Nashville which we publish this mo ning possesses more than usual interest for politicians. Some parts of it read as if it was the product of care, but some others are as loose of construction as of statement. Yet, in the main, it will pass muster for a fairly well-put statement of the condition of the chances of the mora number of the Samues of th and he has given abundant proof in the Democratic party and of the chances of the more prominent candidates for office. What is said there about the Supreme Court is as near the truth as accertained facts will permit. So far as the cautle. supplemented by a profoundly sup-mous fishit, make him a formidable antagonist. But will be run? I have not heard of him recently, and I cannot find out from any one here what he is going to do shout it." M. Estes of Memphis is also spoken of by lawyers here, and laughable as it may seem to some, Gov. Bate has been quietly spoken of for the Supreme Court on account of his expreme Court on account of his extended knowledge of criminal law. But the ticket is likely to be Turney, Cooper, Lee, Folkes and Snodgrass. It will either be this or a new deal all round. But then, again, an earthquake is more likely than a new deal, such are the "influences" at work. Before the assembly of the convention I shall shake up the dice again with perhaps a better, if not a again with perhaps a better, if not a closer, result. The truth is, the peo-ple don't take much interest in the

> Most of those who are offering are men of independent means who can make the racrifice of time involved in the responsible duties in the appellate HOWELL E. JACKSON, FOR SENATOR. Now, about the United States Sen-Now, about the United States Sen-atorship. I feel safe in predicting that there will be no such contest over it as has been arranged for by the op-ponents of Howell E. Jackson. He is the strongest man to day before the people of Tennessee for that or any other office to which he might aspire. His speech for public education has made him a master in the political field, and he has earned something more than mere edat. He has won his way to the hearts and consciences of the people. The gifts of elequence and logic have never in these modern times in Tennessee carried a man as far as that speech has carried Jackson. It placed him high above the reach of his enemies, and no man can stand between him and his re election to the United S ates Senate. Indeed, I am not oversanguine when I say it is not beyond the bounds of probability that he will be re-slected by a unanimous vote of the Legislature. The reasons for this are mainly to be found in that speech far public education, but many of them are also to be found in a career that is admirable for its integrity of purpose at the bar, in the Legislature, particularly in the high place which he fills at present. Jackson is an honor to Tennessee, and no one of the men who have been named as his opponents can a fford to run the risk ci an overwhilming defeat by standing in his way. Most certainly Gen. Atkins, the present Commissioner of Indian Affairs, will not be among the number. Neither Bate no: Marks nor any of the dozen named can do so. Gen. Whit torne is not a pronounced candidate, nor is John F. House, the only man who comes anywhere near Jackson in point of ability and equipment for the position. As to Senston Harris, he is too astute a politician to take any part against Jackson. I am quite confident, let me say again, that upon a careful review of the whole field and an analysis of the claims of all the candidates, that Senator Jackson will be his own successor. THE GOVERNORSHIP.

Supreme Court, and most of the ablest lawyers take less personal interest in it than they do in the political offices, because the salary of the judges is very beggarly and wholly inadequate.

Coming to the Governorship, I feel very much confused, and find it very difficult to resolve my doubts. Nearly every county in East Tennessee has a candidate, but it is pretty generally conceded by the men from the mount-the State a short time back, and will be elected Bate's successor. I know this will sound like heresy in Memphis, where Col. Bob Looney is so popular, but it is nevertheless the truth. Judge Deadrick has about as much chance as Judge McConnell of Chattanoo a and he is in the same box with Wh. tthorne and Champion—that is to say, he has not the ghoet of a show. Albert McNeil, I know, is not a candidate, nor is A. J. Mc-Whiter, our industrious Commissioner of Agriculture. Gen. Dibbrell, I understand from his friends, is willing to go back to the He use again, and declaration of the administration not NASHVILLE, TENN., January 29 .-I understand from his friends, is willing to go back to the H- use again, and as he is a very useful member the people would like to keep him there. Bob Taylor is the man. He might as well begin at once to rosin his bow. All this is said with the understanding and ures the presumption that the Democratic party is a unit throughout the State, and will carry the State. The political outlook is easier to be grasped than it was a few months ago, and the possible, or, to speak with out the State, and will carry the State by a sweeping majority next tail. Of this I don't think there is any reseon to be in doubt. There is no quest on before the party upon which it could possibly divide. The Republicans heresbouts are very sanguine, and have been making some rather colicksome predictions, but none of these are at all likely to be fulfilled. Any well organized attempt on their part by extraneous aid from Northern Republicans would serve the happy pur-pose of solidifying the Democracy of Tennessee, and unless they receive extraneous aid it will be impossible for them to accomplish anything. NEXT WE COME TO CONGRESSMEN. The Democrats of the First District will make a very determined effort to defeat Pettibone, and there is a bare chance that they may succeed, and that they may also unsest Houk in the Second District. But it is doubtful if Neal, in the Third District, can be roubled. Certainly Benton McMillan in the Fourth, Jim Richardson in the Fifth and A. J. Coldwell in the Sixth will be re-elected if they rue, as it is likely they will do. There is some talk of a contest in the Seventh, and it is not unlikely that Whitthorne and Ballentine will once more be arrayed sgainst each other. But Balentine can be re-elected if he desires, and John M. Taylor will also be re-elected in the Eighth District, but P. T. Glass, in the Ninth, will find his opponents in stronger force than ever, and his reelection is among the improbabilities. In the Tenth District Zanh Taylor, if the Democrats nominate the right kind of a man, will not be re-elected. The district is so closely divided between the two great parties that nothing short of a vigorous cauvass by the ablest man you have will effect a change. A new man of character and ability ought to be brought forward. Such a man as Jam s Phelan, whose nomination would, I am told by Shelby county men, harmonize all the conflicting elements and impact to the campaign a zest, vigor and character that would give it the true ring. It would not do for Sheiby county at this juncture to put forward a deleated man, and as Casey Young, Charlie Simonton and Albert McNeil are out of the field altogether, the best thing you can do down there is to unite on Phelan and put him through. He is very strong in Fayotte and Tiptor, and in Hardsman he has a host of friends, who will warmly we some his nomination as a sure angury of success for the party. The only thing that Phelan has to lear is that some of the rings in Shelby may interiere with his ambition there. I assume that the readers of the APPEAL know very well that in Middle Tennessee we have no very high opinion of the politics or politicians of Shelby county. The impression that they have made in our conventions is not celculated to make for them a reputation for harmake for them a reputation for harmony or consistency. Even where the interests of the county are at stake they come up scattering. I don't say this by way of disparagement of the educational powers of the APPRAL. but it is certainly true that some of the scholars are truatts, and are not to be implicitly relied upon in all cases. So that Mr. Phelan's greatest difficulty will be to carry Shelby county. It will not be expected of him that he shall go into the convention with a solid delegation at his back. If he has a majority he will do very well, and that will be sufficient for all purposes. It will secure his

I could say something about county elections in this part of the State, but it would not possess any interest for your readers, and from all I can learn you are likely to have your hands too full with your own county affairs to tate much interest in ours.

Washington, January 30. - The declaration of the administration not to comply with the resolutions of the Senate calling for papers bearing on the official character of the District Attorney for the Southern District of Alabama was the chief topic of conversation here to-day. There is every indication of a warm contact over the matter, which pomiss to develop into a biter partial controversy. The Demonats will uphold the President in his course, and expressions in the party are general that he is entirely in the right, and should be sustained. This decision was reached by the Democratic Senstria in caucus this morning, when the pending issue between the executive and Sanate was fally discussed. As a result of their fally discussed. As a result of their deliberations, the fallowing resolution was unanimously adopted, which the caucus secretary was instruct'd to have published:

Resolved. That we approve the views and action of the President communicated to the Penate Abrough Attorney-General Garland in his letter of January 20, 1885, and that we cordially support the executive therein. The letter of the Attorney-General was received by the President of the Senate yeterday, and was seen by Senature, but as there was no executive session it was not formally laid before that body. THE PUBLIC DEST.
